BAD! BAD!! BAD!!!

Bad blood comes from bad digestion—bad stomach, bad liver, bad kidneys—attended with bad, foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, bad headaches, bad appetite and kindred symptoms. Bad as these all are, and serious as are the diseases to which they lead, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery comes to the relief and cure of all these by regulating and invigorating STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS, and putting all these organs in good order.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drugs; neither does it contain sugar or syrup, which are injurious to some stomachs. Without any of these it retains its pleasant taste and marvelous healing qualities in the most trying climate. Don't let a selfish medicine seller cheat you out of your health by giving you a substitute.—He's only looking out for a larger profit, not for your good. Shun him. Honest, unselfish dealers recommend the "Golden Medical Discovery."

"That your remedies are not for the few, but for the many is evident, for I personally know of many scores of persons in this city who have been restored to health and strength by your medicines," thus writes Henry Landsheft, Esq., Alderman in 17th Ward, Buffalo, N. Y., of 1204 Jefferson Street. "I know that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is most valuable in cases of derangement of the liver, having taken the medicine some two years ago when I had a bad attack of liver trouble, and I never used a medicine before that did me so much good. I have known Dr. Pierce for twenty-six years, and do not wonder at his success, for he is a physician and man of sterling qualities, is possessed of extraordinary skill, and he has in his Sanitarium a corps of Specialists who are chosen because of their unusual knowledge and professional skill."

If suffering from any obstinate, lingering ailment, write to Dr. Pierce and get, free of charge, sound medical advice. He has the counsel and assistance of a large staff of expert specialists.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Paper-bound FREE on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for mailing only; or cloth-bound for 31 cents. Address the Author, as above.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL TO BE EXONERATED.

A semi-official statement appeared in Paris last night relative to the work of the international commission, which has been considering the North Sea incident. It is as follows:

"The Hull commission met this morning in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and again this afternoon in order to proceed to a final examination of the report recapitulating its conclusions. The report is rather long, comprising about 10 large pages. The principal author is Admiral von Spaun (Austrian); but all the members of the commission collaborated in drawing it up. The commission gives no opinion on the question of the presence or absence of Japanese torpedo boats in the North Sea, declaring merely that the Russian admiral quite legitimately believed that his squadron was endangered, and that he had the right under the circumstances to act as he did. The commissioners refer to the Russian government's engagements to indemnify the victims of the deplorable incident. The report will be sent tomorrow by special messengers to the Russian and British governments, not because it is liable to modifications at the instance of one or other of the governments, the commission's decision being without appeal; but the commissioners do not wish the powers interested to simply learn through the press of the last public sitting and the conclusions arrived at. There is nothing in this preliminary communication or report except an act of deference."

The public sitting for the reading of the conclusions will probably be held on Saturday. The admirals will not be in full uniform. The proceedings probably will be closed by a speech of thanks by Admiral Fournier (the president of the commission) to his colleagues.

Members of the commission who were seen last night refused either to confirm or deny the statement; but officials having favorable opportunities to judge of the results of the inquiry consider the statement to be substantially correct.

A strong chord of indignation sounded in the London daily newspapers this morning over the semi-official statement relative to the decision of the North Sea commission giving to Russia the victory, but it is still hoped that the publication of the full text of the commissions report may modify the impression produced by the preliminary version, which is one of intense disappointment.

The Daily Mail goes so far as to declare that the decision has dealt a death blow to arbitration. Some of the newspapers blame the government strongly for ever consenting to subject such a matter to arbitration, while some of the government organs find cold comfort in the fact that the country, by doing so, avoided war with Russia. No question is raised that the decision must be respected, and Great Britain's share of the heavy costs will be ruefully paid; but it is considered that the decision leaves the question of a neutral's right on the high seas in a deplorably unsatisfactory state, and creates a dangerous precedent.

The Morning Post says: "A new dogma of international law is thus established, under which the commander of a belligerent fleet may attack and destroy neutral unarmed vessels without any other plea than that he conceived his ships might be in danger. This doctrine is so monstrous and inconceivable that we can only yet hope the official report will give a different reading."

Just before parliament rose Tuesday night, replying to the question whether any precaution to protect the fishing fleet on the Dogger Bank during the passage of the third Russian Pacific squadron had been taken, Premier Balfour said that his majesty's government placed implicit reliance on Russian assurances that they had taken every precaution to guard against the recurrence of any such incident, and that special instructions had been issued to the whole Russian fleet with this object in view.

TO SUE WEST VIRGINIA.

Attorney General William A. Anderson yesterday declined to discuss a report that Virginia may enter suit in the United States Supreme Court against West Virginia for many millions of dollars, owed, it is alleged, by the latter on the State debt before the two commonwealths were separated. West Virginia has never admitted owing this sum, nor has she yet taken any steps looking to the appointment of a commission to investigate the matter.

The belief is held by those familiar with the situation that her legislature, now in session, will decline to touch the question, and that it will be necessary for Virginia to bring suit in order to protect herself.

A gentleman who has studied the situation gives the following comprehensive summary:

"The great mass of the holders of the certificates representing the unsettled portion of the old Virginia debt have deposited them with the Virginia debt commission under a contract by which it is agreed that they will accept whatever may be obtained from West Virginia, either by negotiation or suit, in full discharge of all their claim and to exonerate Virginia from any further liability. It is understood that this contract expires early in the fall of this year. There is a grave question whether Virginia is released from liability for the third of the bonds funde dunder the act of 1871, which was set apart to await a settlement with West Virginia, and it is said that a suit to bring about a settlement will not only probably result in favor of Virginia against West Virginia for a large amount, but would operate to release Virginia from all further claim or liability on account of over $12,000,000 of said 1871 certificates with interest from 1871. So far the commission has not decided whether a suit will or will not be brought. From all that can be learnded it is hoped that the application recently made to the governor and members of the legislature of West Virginia by the members from the Virginia commission—asking the appointment of a commission to make an accounting with Virginia— will meet with a reponse such as will render any litigation unnecessary."

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, leucorrhœa, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the trouble will make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Miss Luella Adams, of the Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor on the womb and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so and immediately began to improve in health, and I was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely, without an operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ONE PRICE TO ALL.

A Comparison of Muslin Underclothes With Others.

Put side by side they tell the story; the extra care and watchfulness exercised by this store shows in every garment. Night Gowns are asmost half a yard wider at the hips than others selling elsewhere at the same price. Chemises instead of being shapeless things looking like a petticoat with a top cut out in V shape are shaped to fit. Corset Covers are cut right to go over straight front corsets, and under tight-fitting bodies. When it comes to the laces and embroideries and materials from which the underclothes are made, you would in most cases choose ours with your eyes shut. You won't find a piece of muslin among them filled up with clay to make it heavy, nor anything pretending to be nainsook which is as coarse as a salt bag. Yet all of these improvements don't make our prices higher than in Washington.

Night Gowns, 39c to $2.50. Drawers, 25c to $1.50. Petticoats, 49c to $2.50. Chemises, 25c to $1.00.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 23, 1905

It is generally admitted that while there was no parade yesterday in honor of Washington's birthday, the spirit of the occasion was as much in evidence in Alexandria as ever. The celebration was as earnest as that shown on any previous twenty-second of February, although expression was given in another way. Heretofore there have been general turnouts, and the street parade has been regarded as the sine qua non of the day. This feature was omitted this year, but the festivities entered into were really more prolonged than would have been the case had the parade taken place. The assemblage at the Elks' Hall at 3 o'clock in the afternoon was the first of the festive features of the day, and there seldom was a happier gathering. The speeches were from the soul and those who made them were at their best. The annual banquet given by Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons at night was doubtless one of the most enjoyable ever held by the craft in Alexandria. There was a happy commingling of prominent representatives of all political shades and ecclesiastical preferences — republicans, democrats, prohibitionists, Jews and Gentiles. They had met upon the level, leaving all their predilections on the outside, and while gathered around the festive board the flow of soul and sincere fellowship was unbounded. The Vice President-elect of the United States, a stalwart of the stalwarts among the republicans; a republican Congressman from Massachusetts; the junior Senator from Virginia and the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the Old Dominion, democrats to the manner born; evangelical ministers and Jewish rabbis, met as brethren and parted as such. The scenes and expressions of last night will remain green for a long time in the souls of all present.

The Knights of Columbus were animated by the spirit which was in the air, and the members of this organization, many years the junior of Washington's lodge, were equally as earnest in their exertions to do honor to the memory of the Father of His Country. They met to install the newly-elected officers, but soon repaired to the banquet room where the Knights entered into the spirit of the occasion with all their hearts. They were all of one accord, and the expressions of the speakers were interesting and animating.

The Friendship Veteran Fire Association, which is cherishing the memory of Washington, whose engine the illustrious chieftain mounted and aided in working in the streets of Alexandria during colonial days, were also engaged in expressing their admiration of the great soldier and statesmen. There was a large turnout of members, among whom are some now in the sere and yellow leaf. The scenes around their festive board will long be remembered by all who were present.

Over one hundred years have passed away since Washington walked the streets of Alexandria. While absent in body he may have been present in spirit in his favorite city last night.

The appearance of Senator Fairbanks in Alexandria last night dispelled an unfounded impression that the Vice President-elect was frigid and haughty in his mien. While mingling in social intercourse in the lodge room and banquet hall he, of course, maintained his senatorial dignity, but was approachable, affable and attentive to all. Naturally of a social nature, none of the arrogance assumed by some in high positions was noticeable in his deportment, and Masonry—that great leveller of mankind when the members of the craft are gathered as brethern—was recognized in the letter and in spirit. Within a few days' time Mr. Fairbanks will be occupying the second position within the gift of the people, and from all that could be divined last night he will carry into his high position none of the demagogy so often apparent in others, Like some other American products, he has ascended the steps of the ladder leading to his present pinnacle from the humble walks of life, rising superior to the many toils and disappointments, and his experience renders him equally at home with the humble and great.

The President in his Washington's birthday address in Philadelphia yesterday made a big navy the burden of his remarks and said "just at present the best way in which we can show that our loyalty to the teachings of Washington is a loyalty of the heart and not of the lips only is to see to it that the work of building up the navy goes steadily on, and that at the same time our stand for international righteousness is clear and emphatic." But Washington in his farewell address cautioned an avoidance of foreign entanglements and these, it is believed, are just what will be brought about by a big navy. In this connection the Philadelphia Record says:

President Roosevelt is nothing if not a campaigner. He even turned his Washington's birthday address into a big navy and world power harangue bolstered by deft here-and-there allusion to the writings of the Father of His Country, who was a firm believer in the plan of minding one's own business and avoiding foreign entanglement.

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.

The great strike among the glass workers of Belgium is causing great suffering at Brussels, according to a report received by the State Department from U. S. Consul Roosevelt. More than 10,000 men are out. The strike has been in progress since Sept. 1, 1904.

Collector of Customs Leach, of Cleveland, O., returned to Washington today from New York whither he had gone to locate the alleged concealed assets of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick. It is understood that he has dug up quite a large amount in jewelry and cash, which of course, will eventually be divided among the woman's creditors. Mr. Leach today made a full report of his investigations. Customs officials have located a quantity of the diamonds, supposed to have been smuggled by Mrs. Chadwick, in a number of pawnshops at Pittsburg, Pa.

Negotiations between Venezuela and the United State regarding the asphalt muddle in the former country seem likely to be transferred to this city and Minister Bowen and his personality eliminated from the equation. That at least was the inference to be drawn this morning from Dr. Jose de Jesus Paul who came to the State Department with the charge of the legation and presented to Secretary Hay his credentials as "confidential diplomatic agent" of Venezuela.

The House today agreed to the Senate amendment appointing Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, who retires March 4, a brigadier general on the army retired list, after the adoption of an amendment to the Senate proposition placing Gen. Peter Osterhaus, of St. Louis, on the retired list, also as a brigadier general.

Representative Kehoe, of Kentucky, today introduced a resolution in the House, directing the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to investigate the tobacco trust.

A revival of the Russo-Japanese peace rumors was occasioned today by calls at the State Department of the Russian and British Ambassadors followed immediately thereafter by a half-hour conference at the White House between the President and Secretary of State Hay.

The Senate committee on naval affairs today indorsed the President's naval programme by retaining in the naval bill the House provision for the construction of two battleships, but limiting the maximum trial displacement for each to 16,000 tons.

Commissioner Garfield of the Bureau of Corporations, today gave assurance that the beef trust report would be in the hands of Congress before the adjournment.

Senators Fairbanks and Martin, Congressman Gardiner and the others from this city who attended the banquets in Alexandria last night reached their homes safely and those named above say they had a pleasant visit and greatly enjoyed the evening.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee reached here today and will use his utmost endeavors in behalf of the Jamestown exposition bill.

It is the impression here that the impeachment proceedings against Judge Swayne, of Florida, will fail and that the judge will not be removed from office.

The chances for passing a river and harbor bill at this session are growing small by degress and beautifully less.

THE PYTHIANS.

An oyster roast at Ocean View and an exciting contest for office were features of two sessions of the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias, held at Norfolk yesterday. The small attendance of the uniform rank has caused the abandonment of all of the competitive drills and many features arranged for that branch of the order.

At the morning session of the grand lodge yesterday reports of all of the retiring officers were read and acted upon.

The afternoon session was enlivened by a spirited contest during the election of grand officers for the positions of grand outer guard, for which there were six candidates, the grand prelacy and the office of grand vice chancellor. The passing of Grand Chancellor Holt to the office of past grand chancellor left room for the promotion of the lower officers, and nearly all of them went up a peg, the exceptions in the line of promotion being the station officers, who were re-elected to their old positions.

In the contest for the post of grand outer guard were Jefferson Wallace, of Richmond; W. McK. Woodhouse, of Berkeley, J. T. Bailey, of Richmond; A. A. Staltz, of Norfolk; R. L. Hutchings, of Portsmouth, and E. F. Porch, of Fredericksburg. Mr. Wallace won. Maj R. E. Warren, of Portsmouth, won the vice chancellorship over the Rev. J. H Dickerson, and Mr. Dickerson was re-elected prelate over William H. May, of Alexandria.

The election resulted as follows: Vice President Holt, of Hampton, past grand chancellor; J. R. Bryant, jr., Roanoke, grand chancellor; R. E. Warren, Portsmouth, grand vice chancellor; Rev. John H. Dickerson, Richmond, grand prelate; H. M. Darnell, Roanoke, grand keeper of records and seals; Maj. T. L. After considerable discussion, the appointment of six lecturers for as many districts of the State, and a grand lecturer for the entire State were authorized, and the appointments will be made by the grand chancellor.

News of the Day.

Seventy-five bodies have been taken from the Virginia Mine in Alabama where the explosion occurred Monday.

A number of additional subpoenas were served yesterday on employes of the big Chicago packers requiring them to testify in the proceedings against the beef trust.

Dr. William Osler, who is to become regius professor of medicine in Oxford University, delivered his farewell address to Johns Hopkins University at the celebration of the twenty-ninth anniversary of that institution in Baltimore yesterday

President Harper, of the University of Chicago, yesterday was operated upon for a cancerous affection of the colon. The operation from a surgical standpoint was a success. The patient rallied splendidly from the shock, and was last night in a condition that gives every promise of an early recovery from the effects of the operation. The ultimate recovery of Dr. Harper is a matter on which the physicians decline to commit themselves, but merely express "the reasonable hope that the disease may be checked." It was found that Dr. Harper was afflicted with carcinoma of the posterior wall of the head of the colon, and the disease had progressed so far that it was found impossible to remove all of the diseased issue.

Virginia News.

Miss Janie B. Meade and John C. Lee, of Clarke county, were married in Meade Memorial Church, at White Post, yesterday evening by Rev. Carter Page, and left on an extended tour. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Custis Grymes Meade and a decendant of Bishop Meade. The groom is a prosperous farmer and has a large estate.

A dispatch from Richmond says the recent renewal of affection for his native State by Capt. John S. Wise may be somewhat explained by the development yesterday that he is there in the interest of the proposed Richmond and Urbanna Railroad. Captain Wise represents the New York captalists who are prosecuting the enterprise. They have made surveys from Urbanna to Richmond, and propose to build a standard gauge steam road. This enterprise has no connection with the proposed Gould roads. Captain Wise declares that his clients are ready now to proceed with construction, provided the business men of Richmond will show their appreciation in a substantial way. He expects to bring the matter to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce in a formal way.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Senate yesterday, as stated in the Gazette of that day, considered at some length the bill providing a civil government for the Panama canal zone, but consideration of the bill was not completed for want of a quorum.

A number of witnesses were examined on behalf Judge Swayne in the impeachment proceedings against him. Washington's farewell address was read by Mr Perkins at the beginning of the session.

The House sent back to conference the army appropriation bill. All Senate amendments again were disagreed to, with the exception of one appropriating $95,000 for continuing the cable from Valdez to Seward, Alaska. There was renewed discussion of the provision regarding retired officers on duty with the militia of the several States, the name of Gen. Nelson A. Miles once more figuring conspicuously in the debate. Determined opposition developed to a motion by Mr. Ames, of Massachusetts, to agree to the Senate's amendment on the subject, which is favorable to the retention of full retired pay by officers of high rank serving with militia organizations. The remainder of the day was devoted to consideration of the river and harbor appropriation bill, the feature of the debate being the protest of members of the Pennsylvania delegation against the requirement that before the government expend $500,000 additional for improving the Delaware river below Philadelphia, the State of Pennylvania should appropriate an equal sum. The bill was laid aside, and at 6:19 p. m. the House adjourned until today.

George Washington University.

Enthusiasm marked the impressive ceremonies of the dedication in Washington yesterday morning of George Washington University to the cause of higher education. Justice Brewer, of the U. S. Supreme Court, was the orator of the occasion and delivered a masterful address. During the ceremonies the new university flag was unveiled and the new seal of the university was presented and accepted. Both the seal and the emblem were designed by Frederick Dennison Owen, upon whom was conferred the degree of bachelor of science, his diploma being the first document to be issued under the new seal. Degrees in course were conferred upon five other candidates, as follows: W. W. Phelan, doctor of philosophy; Edward E. Richardson, master of arts; L. H. Waring, bachelor of arts; Richard D. Engel, master of law, and Gus S. Safford, doctor of medicine. An elaborate musical programme was rendered by the Marine Band. Lafayette Opera House, where the ceremonies were held, was drapped in the American colors and the blue and buff of the 'varsity.

TO OUST PARK AGNEW.

It has been known since the last presidential election, and before, that an attempt would be made to remove Mr. Agnew of this city from his position as internal revenue collector for the district, but it was not known that the effort would be made so soon as the following from the Washington Star would indicate: The attempt of Representative Slemp, the new political boss of Virginia republicans, to oust Park Agnew as collector of internal revenue of the first collection district of Virginia has already begun. Representative Slemp has presented his case to the treasury and has frankly expressed his desire to have his close political friend and manager, L. P. Summers, given the position now held by Agnew. The matter has not yet been taken up formally with President Roosevelt, but it is the confident belief of the friends of Representative Slemp that the President will indorse the recommendation of the ninth district Virginia representative.

Representative Slemp is basing his request for a change in the office upon the fact that much is expected of him politically in Virginia, and that he desires to reward some of those who have done much for him, and who will aid him in future campaigns in his district and in the State. Secretary Shaw personally knows Mr. Summers and thinks him a suitable man, but the record of Agnew has been good and the secretary is in doubt as to whether to advise the turning out of the present collector, as that is what it would virtually mean.

There is no specified term for a collector of internal revenue, who continues serving until he resigns or is dismissed. Agnew was appointed collecter of the first district April 15, 1897, and will soon have served eight years. The President has indicated that under certain circumstances eight years is long enough for an appointee to a good federal position, but he has no inviolable rule in this respect.

Whether Agnew will make a fight to retain his position is not known. He has a good record, and is a business man of ability and standing. He and George R. Bowden controlled the Virginia political machine for many years, and were in control until recently, when President Roosevelt turned over to Representative Slemp the management of affairs there. Agnew and Bowden did not care to fight the administration, and Agnew resigned his position as State chairman, Representative Slemp's son, C. B. Slemp, being elected chairman. Agnew declared that if he remained as State chairman, everything that did not go right would be blamed upon him, and he did not prefer to shoulder the responsibility.

There has been some talk recently of running Agnew for governor this year, but that is said to be without foundation on the part of the Slemp machine. Agnew would probably not have much appreciation of a decapitation that would take $5,000 a year away from his income and then give him the empty honor of a republican candidacy for governor.

When Mr. Agnew was seen by a representative of the Gazette this morning in reference to the above, he said, of course, he wished to retain his position, but would make no unseemly efforts to do so. He said his official record of eight years' service was on file and that would speak for itself. In connection with this matter, it can be stated that a strong petition for the retention of Mr. Agnew in his office is being circulated in this city and is being signed by the citizens generally, irrespective of party affiliations, so popular is Mr. Agnew in his home city.

It is understood in Washington that Col. Slemp has already recommended the early removal of Mr. Agnew and the appointment of Mr. L. P. Summers, of Abingdon, to the position, and that the recommendation has been sent to the President.

Attacks United States.

The German Reichstag yesterday passed all the commercial treaties on third reading. The vote on the Russians treaty was 228 to 81, and on the Austrian treaty 226 to 79.

During the debate the agrarians again demanded denunciation of the most-favored-nation clause with nontreaty countries.

Vice Chancellor von Posadowsky-Wehmer closed the government's case for the treaty with praising the agricultural classes as the strong anchor of the ship of state, while the urban population, he said, was but shifting sand.

Herr Liebermann von Sonnenberg (agrarian and anti-Semite) said the Agrarian League, through skilful agitation, had effected a change in the government's view. "It required enormous exertion," he said, "to pull the government out of the von Caprivi bog. We now have confidence in the government".

Herr von Oldenburg, of the Agrarian League, demanded denunciation of the most favored nation arrangement with the United States. He thanked the chancellor for having, through treaties, opened up the possibility for co-operation with the government of those classes of the population which were designed by God to be pillars of the state.

Herr Kaempf (radical) explained that his party voted for the treaties in order to get fixed conditions of trade before the government shall come still further under the agrarian influence.

Fatal Result of Altercation.

New York, Feb. 23.—John Gray, colored, was shot and killed this morning by William Preston, as the result of an altercation over women. The shooting occurred in west 37th street, a few doors from where the men had been drinking during the night. Preston, after the shooting, made his escape. The two women in the case, Sarah Loper and Florence Smith, have been arrested and are being held as witnesses. Gray was the negro valet of President Underwood of the Erie Railroad.

Letter to Henry F. Robertson,

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: Mr N Avery, Delhi, N Y, had two houses exactly alike, and painted them; one Devoe lead-and-zinc; the barytes and-zinc. He paid same price for both paints.

He used six gallons of lead-and-zinc, 12 gallons barytes-and-zinc.

He paid $18 for painting lead-and-zinc, $36 for painting barytes-and-zinc.

The total cost of the lead-and-zinc job was $27; the total cost of the barytes-and-zinc job was $54

He didn't know he was buying barytes; the dealer told him that paint was as good as Devoe.

A fair example of how it generally comes out, when you buy "something just as good." Better go by the name: the name; and the name is Devoe. Yours truly

The Late Constitutional Convention.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Thompson Brown, of the late constitutional convention association, has issued a letter to the members of that body calling for a reunion and banquet here on March 16th, and asking for a contribution of $10 each for expenses. Seven members have died, but all the others, clerks and newspaper men, are members. A regular session will be held with President Goode in the chair.

Fire at the V. P. Institute.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Feb. 23.—Science Hall of the V. P. I., at Blacksburg, was destroyed by fire today. No one was hurt but the cadets lost their clothing and are wiring to their parents to supply them at once. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

Destructive Fires.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 23.—The hand some four story hotel building of the Hotel Penn, at the corner of Sixth and Penn streets, the business section of the city, was this morning destroyed by fire, and water so badly damaged it that it will have to be rebuilt. The loss will reach several hundred thousand dollars.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Fire seriously damaged the power house No. 1 of the Niagara Falls Power Company, 9:30 o'clock this morning. The fire was caused by a short circuit on the cables operated from switchboard No. 1, and as a result, five big generating machines in the plant are out of commission. The electric light system of the city and the street railway system are down. Three men, tenders of switchboard No. 1, were badly burned by the short circuit flash from the switchboard.

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 23.—Fire at Midland, this county, this morning, destroyed Ward's opera house and six dwellings. Owing to an inadequate supply of water, the entire town was threatened at one time and people fled from their homes. Chemical engines were secured from neighboring towns and with the assistance of these, the flames were finally got under control.

Cape May, N. J., Feb. 23.—Twenty-one buildings in the heart of Cape May Court House village valued at $45,000 were destroyed by fire between five and six o'clock this morning. The Bellevue Hotel, Red Men's Hall, Court House Gazette, Postmaster Richardson's dwelling and other stores were included.

Rioting in Russia.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—The Vorwærts reports that seven hundred persons have been killed in street fighting at Baku.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.—A dispatch from Warsaw says that in a fight between girls of the high schools there and the police, Cossacks were called out and drove the girls and their mothers to their homes with knouts. The school boys of the city came to the support of the girls and courageously fought the police and Cossacks. Three hundred pupils were arrested.

London, Feb. 23.—Reuter's Warsaw correspondent reports that strikers smashed the windows of five factories on Chernaikowska street in Warsaw, this morning, and forced the men to quit work. A company of infantry fired on the strikers. The result is not known.

Warsaw, Feb. 23.—The strike on the railways entering Warsaw continues today. No trains are running either from or into Warsaw. The strikers are today tampering with the locomotives, four of which have been completely ruined.

The North Sea Inquiry.

London, Feb. 23.—The semi-official forecast of the findings of the North Sea inquiry commission, contained in dispatches from Paris, last night, are most unpopular in England. These findings, according to the dispatches, were to the effect that Admira-Rodjestvensky was perfectly sincere in believing his squadron was in danger; and, accordingly, had a perfect right to act as he did. The favoring of the Russian side of the contention has aroused great opposition in the seaboard towns, and it is possible, if true, it will alienate the fishermen's support of the government in the event of an early general election.

Paris Feb. 23.—Your correspondent learns from an official source that the account of the North Sea inquiry commission, telegraphed to London yesterday by the correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company, was incomplete. The verdict contains other paragraphs, which satisfy England, and which counterbalance the pro-Russian paragraphs published.

No Signs of Peace.

London Feb. 23.—Despite the seemingly well authenticated reports current during the past few days that peace in the far East was an early probability, your correspondent is in a position to state that these reports are apparently without any actual foundation. As stated in these dispatches yesterday, the trend of affairs in Russia seems to be in the other direction, and the probabilities are that the Czar's government will pursue the war with as great, if not greater, vigor than heretofore. In the capitals of Europe there is a unanimous opinion that peace is not in sight Practically all the semi-officials newspapers in Europe, decline to believe that Russia is willing to end the war, while the Japanese and Russian diplomats are persistently denying that any thing in this direction is afoot. These denials are not merely formal, but these diplomats say the same thing when speaking in private.

Revolution Predicted.

London, Feb. 23.—S. Karshi, one of the leaders of the Polish revolutionary propaganda, who is now in London, in an interview regarding the situation in Russia had the following to say to the correspondent of the Publishers' Press Association, this morning: "The present lull in the strike movement in Poland is only temporary. We have planned a national uprising next summer, which we believe will bring us a great measure of self-government. We perfected our plans during the present crisis. We now know our true strength as never before. We are overpoweringly strong in the cities. We have hundreds of agents working among the peasants all of whom report discontent rapidly spreading among the peasantry, who are expressing a willingness to throw their lot with ours. We have reasons to expect that the revolution now organizing will be on a larger scale than any in Poland's history."

Arsenic Poisoning Found.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—That arsenic was the cause of Mrs. Marie Welcher-Hoch's death was the direct statement last night by Dr. O. W. Lewke, coroner's physician, who, with Dr. Walker S. Haines, has been conducting an investigation. The woman was the next to the last wife of Johann Hoch, alleged to be a bigamist. "I have found arsenic-poisoning in the kidneys," said Dr. Lewke, "I do not know how the drug came to be there, but the arsenic is undoubtedly the drug that caused her death." According to Dr. Lewke, traces of arsenic were apparent almost from the beginning of the investigation, started some time ago. Dr. Lewke and Dr. Haines will make their report to the coroner's jury today, and Dr. Joseph Reese, who attended Mrs. Welcker-Hoch, will testify that he administered no medicine that contained poison.

Japan Arranging for a Loan.

Tokio, Feb. 23.—Japan is arranging for a new loan of $50,000,000 which will be issued at 90 and will bear six per cent interest. The bonds are redeemable in seven years.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 23, 11 a. m.—Tremendous dealings took place in the active stocks in the first half hour of business today. Interest, however, centered almost wholly in the stocks of the southern iron companies and prices advanced. A reaction followed and then stocks became more quiet. There was heavy profit taking near the close of the first hour, which caused much general reactions, though not of a serious extent. The market now is less excited, but preserves a general strong tone.

Fifty-Eighth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 23.

SENATE.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock this morning.

A bill was passed providing for the return of Confederate flags to Southern States. The measure has already passed the House.

There was also passed a bill dividing Washington State into two judicial districts.

When the Panama canal zone civil government bill was taken up, Mr. McComas withdrew his pending amendment providing for the carrying of all canal material etc. in American ships, announcing his regret over the discovery that its retention might jeopardize the measure.

Mr. Morgan, Ala., offered an amendment providing that no appointment should be made during the recess to fill any vacancy that might take place in the Isthmian canal commission, whether such retirement should be voluntary or upon demand of the President. He charged that the commission was a legislative device; that it has been embarrassing if not destructive to canal construction, and that it would be fifty years before that body would build the canal. He expressed surprise that the members with their acceptance of fees, dividends, etc., had not taken their lives in their hands and stayed longer on the canal zone for the $15 a day allowed them under these conditions. He declared that the organic act gave the President full power to construct the canal without a commission. "We want no dropping of the hot potato now," he exclaimed. "We don't want the President to come to us and say later: 'You tied my hands with this commission, and I could not do anything.'"

An amendment offered by Mr. Teller (Colorado) giving the President discretion to purchase the outstanding stock of the Panama Railroad Company, before beginning condemnation proceedings, was agreed to.

An amendment by Mr. Heyburn (Idaho), providing for the eventual dissolution of the railroad company, was laid on the table.

The bill was then passed.

After the Indian appropriation bill had been taken up, the Senate resolved itself into a court of impeachment.

The Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment in the Swayne case this afternoon, perfected arrangements for the closing of the trial, looking toward a final vote by the Senators by Saturday.

HOUSE.

The House today adopted a resolution directing the Secretary of the interior to inform the House as to the disposition of the ration funds for Indian children attending sectarian schools.

The committee on Indian affairs today favorably reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior to furnish the House with complete information concerning the leasing of the oil lands of the Osage Indians. The resolution was adopted unanimously without debate.

Mr. Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the military affairs committee, called up the Military Academy appropriation bill, with the Senate amendments. He asked concurrence in the Senate amendment placing Senator Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut, who retires from the Senate on March 4, on the retired list of the army, with the rank of brigadier general, with the amendment that General Peter Osterhaus, of St. Louis, be also made a brigadier general on the army retired list.

Mr. Hull's motion brought forth applause from both sides of the chamber. General Osterhaus, he said, did more than twenty other men, to save the State of Missouri to the Union during the civil war. The House, without division, having adopted the Hull amendment agreed to the Senate proposition.

The remaining amendments to the bill were then disagreed to, and the bill was sent back to conference.

Consideration of the river and harbor bill was then resumed in committee of the whole.

An amendment was adopted providing that no process for removing water hyacinths from the navigable waters of Florida shall be used which requires deposit of poisonous substances in such waters.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Former United States Senator Jonathon Ross died this morning at St. Johnsbury, Vt., as the result of injuries he received in a runaway accident on Tuesday in which Mrs. Ross was instantly killed.

There is excellent authority for the statement in New York this afternoon that the Gates-Hoadly interests have secured control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, through the open market.

Colonel Mosby Gets Pay.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond News-Leader says: "Colonel John S. Mosby is one of the happiest men in Washington today. In 1865 he had some 7,000 pounds of tobacco in Richmond warehouses. The United States troops then stationed there made use of it. It was after the close of the war, and Colonel Mosby had been paroled, and thereby became entitled to all the protection of life and property than an American citizen enjoys. He, therefore, had a claim against the government for his tobacco. For years he has been trying to get Congress to pay him for his "weed," but without success. This year, however, his claim went into the omnibus claims bill, and as a result, after forty years, Colonel Mosby will get paid for the smokes and and chews the northern men had at his expense. The amount allowed him on the claim is $3,950.

Girl Killed by Drinking Wine.

A nine-year-old daughter of Gabriel Lawson died near Comorn, Va., Tuesday evening, from the effects of imbibing wine too freely. It appears that the child, during a temporary absence of other members of the family, drank about a qnart of wine Tuesday morning. Extreme illness soon followed. A physician arrived as speedily as possible and administered emetics and all known remedies; but death came in the afternoon. It is stated that the child was so thoroughly saturated with wine that the liquid exuded from the pores of her skin all over the body.

Banquet Night.

Several organizations gave banquets last night, each of which was a success in every particular. Extensive preparations had been made by the committees in charge of the entertainments, and each feature of the programmes was enacted with notable success.

ALEXANDRIA-WASHINGTON LODGE.

There was a large gathering in the Masonic Temple, where the members of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons and their guests had met to do honor to Washington's birthday. Every seat in the vast room was occupied, while additional chairs were utilized to accommodate the many present.

The lodge was opened in due form, Worshipful Master W. A. Moore, jr., in the "East." The session was short, and the brethren were soon called off for refreshment. The lodge had convened in the asylum of Old Dominion Commandery from which hall they adjourned to the lodge room below where a display was presented of the most inviting nature. The caterers, Rammel Brothers, had exercised all their skill and taste in the preparation of the viands and the arrangement of the tables. Worshipful Master Moore took his stand at the head of the table and having rapped the assemblage to order called upon Rev. P. P. Phillips to invoke the blessing of the Grand Master of the Universe upon the feast and guests, at the close of which the brethren took seats and the feast began. The following was the menu:

Queen olives, celery, Cherrystone oysters, raw; oyster cocktail, Norfolks, fried; cold meats, roast turkey, cranberry sauce; smoked beef tongue and ham; salads—chicken a la mormande, potato; Waldorf relish, gherkins, cold slaw, sliced tomatoes, pickled onions, fruits, coffee and cigars.

About an hour was spent in the enjoyment of the feast which had been prepared in many tempting ways, and all having eaten to the full, the company was subsequently called to called by the Worshipful Master who announced that Past Master R. W. Arnold would act as toastmaster, and preside. The latter arose and in a few well-choosen remarks appropriate to the anniversary of the birth of Washington, pronounced the toast, "Alexandria-Washington Lodge," and called upon Past Master J. Fred Birrell who happily responded and heartly welcomed the guests.

The next toast was "Washington," with an appropriate sentiment. This was responded to by Vice President elect Fairbanks. It was the first time Mr. Fairbanks had addressed a Virginia audience, and the applause with which he was greeted was hearty. His speech was a beautiful tribute to Washington as a man and a Mason and brought forth constant applause. He expressed his sincere appreciation of the hearty welcome he had received in Alexandria, and said his visit would be long and happily remembered.

Governor Montague responded to the toast, "Masonry's Impression Upon Civilization." The Governor's speech was akin to all he has uttered when a guest in Alexandria, where he is always accorded a hearty welcome. His remarks were eloquent and impressive, and his references to the duties Masons owe their order were well received.

Toastmaster Arnold then read a programme from Constitutional Lodge of Beverly, England, on which it was shown that at a recent celebration given by that lodge the toast to "Alexandria-Washington Lodge" had been responded to by Brother Foley, who is an honorary member of Alexandria-Washington Lodge. He then spoke of the fraternal feeling between Alexandria-Washington Lodge and Beverly Lodge of England and Beverly Lodge of Massachusetts, and called upon Hon. A. P. Gardner, of the Beverly district, Massachusetts, to respond to the toast to the English and Massachusetts lodges, which he did in a happy and impressive manner, evoking constant applause. His speech was the most humorous of the evening.

Senator Martin, to whom had been assigned "The Three Steps in Masonry," was the next speaker. He made an excellent speech which was greatly appreciated. During his remarks he made happy allusions to Senator Fairbanks, the Governor and to the other speakers who had preceded him, and took occasion to say that should the Vice President-elect be chosen President, as he thought it extremely likely he would be, the South would receive even justice at his hands. This brought forth loud applause.

"The Mason as a Patriot" was responded to by Rev. Abram Simon, of Washington, who made an impressive address, abounding in pathos and eloquence.

"The Grand Lodge of Virginia" was responded to by Deputy Grand Master K. Kemper, who gave an interesting description of the Grand Lodge in which he took occasion to mention the fraternal relations existing between the Alexandria and the two Beverly lodges.

Mr. J. H. Trimyer responded to "Andrew Jackson Lodge," referring to the cordial and fraternal relations existing between the members of both Masonic lodges of this city.

"Virginia," was responded to by Lieutenant Governor Willard in a happy manner, in which he spoke of the pleasant duty which had been imposed upon him to respond to this toast.

Judge Nicol was the last speaker. He felicitously addressed his audience as "members of Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson Lodges." During his speech he said it was safe to predict that the next Governor and Senator would be Masons. [All the candidates for these positions are Masons.] He spoke of the pleasant evening he and the other visitors had spent and expressed the hope that the celebration of Washington's birthday would be observed in Alexandria so long as time shall last.

By the time all had spoken the hour had grown late, and the Washingtonians were compelled to leave in order to take the last north bound electric train. It was past midnight when the company adjourned all much pleased with their evening's experience.

Letters of regret at their inability to be present were received and read from Grand Master Davis, Grand Secretary Carrington and Past Grand Master Duke. Greetings from Liberty Lodge, of Beverly, Mass., were also received and appropriately responded to.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

The meiting last night of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, was interesting throughout. About sixty were present, including several visitors.

A feature of the evening was the installation of the newly-elected officers, after which the Council and guests repaired to Mrs. Bohraus's dining hall, on south Columbus street, where a sumptuous banquet had been prepared. The company spent about an hour in the discussion of the feast, and when it was called to order speeches were made by District Deputy John C. Hagan, of Richmond; Messrs. Robert Missouri, of Richmond; W. F. Carne, W. H. Whitcomb, G. T. Caton, W. H. P. Kelly, Dr. E. A. Gorman and others.

FRIENDSHIP VETERAN FIRE ASSOCIATION.

About sixty members of the Friendship Veteran Fire Association gathered last night to pay respect to the memory of George Washington. Mr. E. E. Downham presided. At an early hour the members adjourned to Mrs. Bohraus's dining room where a feast had been spread. The company having been seated, Mr. R. E. Knight invoked a blessing upon the spread, and the partaking of the banquet followed. At the close speeches were made by Messrs. E. E. Downham, Chas. B. Marshall, B. Wheatley, R. E. Knight and others. Chief Webster, a veteran member of the organization, added much interest to the occasion by his reminiscenses of by-gone days.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION ASSOCIATION BANQUET.

The banquet given by the George Washington Birthday Celebration Association was in progress at the Elks' social hall when the Gazette went to press yesterday evening and the programme as published that day was carried out. Mayor Paff presided and nearly a hundred persons were present, including many prominent citizens. Gov. Montague and Lieut. Gov. Willard were the guests of honor, the latter arriving just in time to fill the engagement. Mr. H. K. Field invoked a blessing and after the sumptuous banquet Mayor Paff called the assembly to order and in a felicitous manner introduced Gov. Montague.

The governor said there is no place so fitting as Alexandria in which to celebrate the birth of the illustrious Virginian, whose memory those present had gathered together to honor; it was the influence of Washington alone that kept the American republic from disintegration in its infancy and held the American people together. He had taught us, he said, tolerance and patience, and his shining example to men would live throughout eternity. Gov. Montague paid a beautiful tribute to the virtues of Washington, and at his close he was tumultuously applauded.

Judge J. B. McCabe, of Loudoun, responded to the toast "George Washington," and also paid a glowing tribute to the first President. He said that Washington had launched the ship of state, and while it has been blown from its course, Theodore Roosevelt is endeavoring to bring it back again, and that he would receive the unswerving support of every true American in his commendable efforts. In closing, Judge McCabe said that the spirit of Washington will never die, and even now is operating in dark, beclouded Russia.

Mayor Paff then announced that Mr. C. C. Carlin, who was to have responded to the toast, "Our Association," could not be present, and he introduced Mr. William F. Carne. Mr. Carne read the following two papers, which have not appeared in print before for some years—the address of the people of Alexandria, delivered by "Light Horse" Harry Lee to Washington when he passed through this city on April 16, 1789, to assume the presidency of the United States, and Washington's response. Gen Lee said:

LEE'S SPEECH TO WASHINGTON.

Again your country commands your care. Obedience to its wishes, unmindful of your ease, we see you again relinquishing the bliss of retirement; and this, too, at a period of life when nature itself seems to authorize a preference of repose. Not to extol your glory as a soldier; not to pour forth our gratitude for your past services; not to acknowledge the justice of the unexampled honor which has been conferred upon you by the spontaneous and unanimous suffrage of three millions of freemen in your election to the supreme magistracy; not to admire the patriotism which directs your conduct, do your neighbors and friends now address you. Themes less splendid but more endearing impress our minds. The first and best of citizens must leave us; our aged must lose their ornament; our youth their model; our agriculture its improver; our commerce its friend; our infant academy its protector; our poor their benefactor; and the interior navigation of the Potomac (an event replete with the most extensive utility, already by your most unremitted exertions, brought into partial use), its instituter and promoter. Farewell * * * go and make a grateful people happy, a people who will be doubly grateful when they contemplate this recent sacrifice for their interest. To the Being who maketh and unmaketh we commend you and after the accomplishment of the arduous business to which you are called, may He restore to us again the best of men and the most beloved fellow-citizen.

WASHINGTON'S RESPONSE.

To this address Gen. Washington made the following response:

Although I ought not to conceal, yet I cannot describe the painful emotions which I felt in being called upon to determine whether I would accept or refuse the presidency of the United States. The unanimity in the choice, the opinion of my friends communicated from different parts of Europe as well as from America, the apparent wish of those who were not entirely satisfied with the Constitution in its present form, and an ardent desire on my own part to be instrumental in connecting the good will of my countrymen toward each other, have induced an acceptance. Those who know me best (and you, my fellow-citizens, are, from your situation in that number) know better than any others my love of retirement is so great that no earthly consideration, short of a conviction of duty, could have prevailed upon me to depart from my resolution "never more to share in transactions of public nature," for at my age and in my circumstances, what prospect or advantages could I propose to myself, from embarking again on the tempestuous and uncertain ocean of public life. I do not feel myself under the necessity of making public declarations in order to convince you gentlemen of my attachment to yourselves and regard for your interests. The whole tenor of my life has been open to your inspection, and my past actions, rather than my present declarations, must be a pledge of my future conduct. In the meantime, I thank you most sincerely for the expressions of kindness contained in your valedictory address. It is true, just after having bid adieu to my domestic connections, this tender proof of your friendship is but too well calculated still further to awaken my sensibility and increase my regret at parting from the enjoyments of private life. All that remains for me is to commit myself and you to the protection of that beneficent Being who, on a former occasion, hath happily brought us together after a long and distressing separation. Perhaps the same gracious Providence will again indulge me. Unutterable sensation must then be left to more expressive silence, while from an aching heart I bid you all, my affectionate friends and kind neighbors, farewell.

Police Justice H. B. Caton then sang a topical song composed for the occasion, in which public officials and others present were held up to good natured ridicule.

Delegate James R. Caton responded to the toast, "Our City," in which he briefly reviewed the history of Alexandria, pointed to its past glories and sacrifices, and predicted bright days for its future.

Mr. George H. Evans then sang a song entitled "Virginia" and was compelled to respond to an encore.

Judge C. E. Nicol responded to the toast "Our State," in which he paid his respects to Speaker Cannon for projecting himself in the path of a bill for the Jamestown celebration appropriation, and said "had the settlers of Virginia in 1607 known that Mr. Cannon would project himself upon the scene of action at this time they would have hoisted sail and settled elsewhere." Judge Nicol painted a beautiful word picture of the old Commonwealth. He paid a glowing tribute to the character and example of Robert E. Lee, and said that Stonewall Jackson was the greatest military genius since Julius Caesar. He said that two lines in the Richmond Enquirer at the time of the death of Stonewall Jackson had impressed him as much as anything he had ever read. They were: "When Stonewall Jackson went to heaven Julius Caesar arose and bowed to him." Judge Nicol said that the most beautiful eulogy on Virginia that he had ever heard was delivered by the late Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, at a meeting of the Virginia State Bar Association, and when Senator Hoar is forgotten for everything else, he would be remembered that speech.

State Senator Lewis H. Machen responded to the toast, "Our Country," in an eloquent and impressive speech, evoking much applause.

Late in the evening Lieut. Gov. Willard arrived and his appearance was a signal for prolonged applause. At the conclusion of Mr. Machen's address Mr. Willard responded to repeated calls in a happy speech, assuring his hearers of his pleasure at being present. At the conclusion of Mr. Willard's speech the assemblage dispersed.

The committees having in charge the several banquets acquitted themselves most creditably and showed that they were the right men in the right place.

The River.

The embargo upon everything save propeller steamers still exists in the river, and advices from the lower Potomac represent conditions as unchanged.

The steamer Norfolk was but an hour late in reaching this city this morning.

The fleet of tugboats, in charge of Harbor Master Sutton, which was yesterday engaged in breaking ice in the vicinity of the bridges over the Potomac, were more or less injured, and it was necessary for all the boats to lay up today for repairs. The screw of the William Yerkes, one of the twelve tugs, was broken, and practically all of the ice-breaking plows needed extensive repairs. A channel about 400 feet wide was opened up from the entrance into the Washington channel all the way to the Aqueduct bridge. The ice below the Long bridge was found to be about six inches thick, with three inches of snow upon it. Little trouble was experienced in making a passage through it by the tugs and the steamer Estelle Randall. Above the Long bridge the ice became thicker and the progress of the tugs was much impeded. In the afternoon the fleet operated in the river below Washington. The channel was widened, although between Washington and Alexandria, the ice was largely in huge floes, which fill the river from shore to shore. Below Alexandria the fleet found the ice to be nearly twelve inches thick, and it was in this vicinity that the greatest damage was done to the ice plows and where the propeller of the William Yerkes was broken.

Personal.

Capt. Herbert Bryant who has been confined to his home for the past week with an attack of bronchitis, is able to be about the house and expects soon to be out again.

Lieut. Gov. Willard broke several engagements to come here yesterday to attend the banquets and reached this city in time to be present at both meetings, to the pleasure of his friends.

Messrs. J. C. Hagan and Capt. Robert Missouri, of Richmond, are registered at the Hotel Rammel.

Mr. John T. Nalls and Miss Maggie Nalls will be married tonight at the parsonage of Trinity Church by Rev. J. A. Jeffers.

Senators Fairbanks and Martin were handsomely entertained last night by Mr. W. A. Smoot, jr., at his residence on Prince street, where they met a number of prominent citizens of Alexandria.

Vice President-elect Fairbanks and Senator Martin arrived here about 6 o'clock yesterday evening and were escorted to the residence of Mr. C. C. Carlin, on Washington street, where they were entertained at supper. While there the Vice President-elect said he was heartily in favor of the proposed memorial bridge.

Governor Montague, who arrived here shortly after noon yesterday, was met at the station by Mr. Marshall L. King, the chairman of the reception committee of the Washington's Birthday Celebration Association, and several others. He was escorted to the Hotel Rammel, where he was met by the members of the executive committee of the association. During the interim between his arrival and the hour of the dinner, members of citizens called upon the governor in his apartments in the hotel. Governor Montague spent the night in this city and after calling on a number of his friends today went over to Washington. He will return to Richmond this evening.

Modern Protective Association.

The Modern Protective Association organized their lodge in Alexandria Tuesday night with thirty charter members. The Supreme President, of Sayre, Pa., was present. Wm. Cross is a naturalborn orator and favored those present with a lecture, which was adequate to the occasion. The following members were elected to office: President, Dr. Charles Outcalt; vice president, Dennis K. Smithers; secretary, Dr. Robert L. Wilkins; guide, Thomas T. Wigfield; treasurer, Jackson Nalls; prelate, Peyton Dearborn; inside watchman, W. J. Sanford; outside watchman, John Cronin; trustees, Dr. A. A. Rittenour Dr. Charles Outcalt, Lyon H. Dolan, and S. E. Atherton, State superintendent.

The capital stock is to be $100,000 and the officers are J. H. Bradley, president and treasurer, and R. C. Haden, secretary. Thos. and S. D. Bradley are the directors and Mr. G. L. Boothe is named as the local attorney.

To Call a Minister.

A meeting of the congregation of the Baptist Church will be held on Wednesday night next to take steps toward selecting a pastor, a position recently made vacant by the resignation of Rev. W. A. Wray. It is said that a large number of the members of the church favor calling Rev. J. H. Butler, who for several years was pastor of the church.

More Complaints.

Bakers continue to complain of depredations upon bread boxes. A receptacle on north Alfred street was robbed of part of its contents on Monday night, and the box in front of the store on the southwest corner of Prince and Royal streets was rifled Tuesday morning.

Nomination of Mr. Bell.

The President sent to the Senate today the nomination of Mr. Lewis McK. Bell to be Collector of Customs for the district of Alexandria. Mr. Marshall King, who has for several years filled this position, sent in his resignation recently, and his successor, Mr. Bell, had the endorsement of both Mr. Agnew and Mr. Stemp, as well as that of Mr. J. L. Crupper, who at the time was chairman of the city republican committee. The position has been efficiently filled by Mr. King, who resigned on account of business interests. Mr. Bell has previously held the position and gave entire satisfaction to all while he was in charge of the office.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 23, 1905.

Virginia Elopers.

Harold MacConnell and his bride, arrived in New York after a sensational elopement from Virginia, to accomplish which the groom swam the icy Bluefield river at midnight. He left the Grand Hotel yesterday on an unsuccessful holiday shopping tour. MacConnell's wife is the daughter of his keenest business competitor.

"We arrived in New York without other clothes than those we wore when we eloped," said MacConnell, who is manly, good looking and 23. But all the stores were closed because of Washington's Birthday. I reckon we can wear our old clothes until tomorrow; can't we, dearie?" he asked, turning to his bride, who is 18, beautiful and a daughter of one of the oldest Virginia families.

"Harold and I are supremely happy, and we will not let anything interfere with our honeymoon," said she. MacConnell is in the lumber business at Pocahontas, Va.

"Col. James S. Browning, now my father-in-law, left Pocahontas for Richmond, and said 'No' when I wanted to marry his daughter," said MacConnell. "A friend of mine went to Richmond and arranged for the elopement. Then my friend returned to Pocahontas. Late one night we mounted saddlehorses, swam the swift-running Bluefield river, full of ice, and reached a railroad station, where we took a train to Richmond. There we were met by my financee. We traveled to Washington, where we were married and came on to New York."

Mr. and Mrs. MacConnell say they will spend several days here, and will then return to Pocahontas. They say they do not care whether parental forgiveness reaches them or not.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach; liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. Sold by all druggists.

Bad breath, belching of gas and sour risings are due to Indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a guaranteed cure. L. A. Soper of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendations that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when any thing disagrees with her." Kodol is the best medicine in the world for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. A trial of this greatest of all digestants will convince any who suffers. Good for young or old.
